We are Indy Honor Flight, and this is our story.

In the Spring of 2004, the WWII Memorial was dedicated and opened to the public in our Nation's capital. Late the same year, a Doctor in Ohio named Earl Morse, asked one of his World War II veteran patients if he would like to fly out to D.C. free of charge to visit his memorial. The Veteran broke down and cried. He told Earl that at his age, he would probably never get to see his memorial otherwise, and graciously accepted the offer. Earl posed the same question to another Vet a week later. He too cried and enthusiastically accepted the trip. It didn't take long for Earl to realize that there were many veterans who would have the same reaction. So, he started asking for help from other pilots to make these dreams a reality.

In the Fall of 2009, completely unaware of the Honor Flight Network, our founder, Grant Thompson, took a similar trip with just one Veteran of WWII. It changed both of their lives. Eventually, Grant learned of the Honor Flight Network and immediately called to become a volunteer. He was shocked to learn that the only thing in the Indianapolis area was a waiting list of over 50 Veterans, many of them had been waiting years. Needless to say, the decision to form the Indy hub was made on the spot.

On September 10, 2012, Indy Honor Flight made our inaugural flight, bringing nearly 80 WWII Veterans to D.C., as well as honoring those who could wait no longer. With continued support from the patriotic people of Indiana, we have taken several hundred deserving Veterans to visit their Memorials. Having taken 60 years to build the WWII Memorial, we feel our Hoosier Heroes have waited long enough. Please help get behind this monumental effort. Every little bit helps for us to continue to honor our Hoosier Heroes.

It is time to pay tribute to those who fought for our freedom.

Have you ever wanted to somehow say thank you for the freedom that exists in this great country of ours? Have you ever felt that if only there was some way to touch the lives of those responsible for that freedom in such a way as to leave an ever lasting impact on their life?

Indy Honor Flight does just that, showing gratitude, bringing closure and honor to our Hoosier Heroes of the WWII, Korea, and Vietnam wars. We owe these men and women so much; you can help today.

Guardians

Each veteran is paired with a guardian who is asked to make a donation to cover the cost of his/her own expenses. The experience of assisting one of our Hoosier Veterans for the day is priceless.

Donors

None of this would be possible were it not for the generous donations from fellow Americans. Please help make the dreams of our country's Veterans a reality by making a donation today. Time is not on our side.

Schools, Churches, Civic Groups, and Volunteers

There are numerous ways to help make these trips possible. Please contact us today to get your group involved!

There's no greater way to say thank you...

The American veteran is one of our greatest treasures. Those men and women who answered our nation's call, especially at times of our greatest need. As a grateful country, it is our job to honor and thank our veterans for their service and sacrifice.

The mission at Indy Honor Flight is simple, to bring our World War II, Korea, and Vietnam veterans to Washington D.C., at no cost to them, for a tour of honor.

Please consider donating or volunteering.
